

Chapters 19, 21, 23

The aforementioned chapters present the TCP/IP protocol suite in detail. I have taken what I consider the most important items that are relevant for our course and distilled those into one module, which is posted.

I have also posted some hex dumps which we will analyze in detail.

Make sure you print these hex dumps and the notes for class because you will need to make notes on those, especially the hex dump analysis.
