

We should expand on the networking diagrams to account for events such as client or server disconnections, etc...